Server-side Testing

- Tested on major browsers, site functions properly and looks consistent across these browsers.
- Tested on mobile across several browsers, site functions properly and adapts to mobile viewports.
- User functionality such as creating an account, changing information, posting, replying,
- all work as intended. The database reflects these changes for all users, ensuring the database is working as intended.
- Email password recovery works as intended, sending an email to a user if they forgot their Password.

Client-side Testing

- Localhost version of the site functions across major browsers
- Localhost site functions the same as the server
- User functionality tested and works as intended on the localhost server.
- Tested on mobile across several browsers, site functions properly and adapts to mobile viewports.
